JANCIS M. ANDREWS

Jancis' Extra-Rich Dessert

A carpenter ant has climbed my kitchen counter eager to whoop it up with my grasshopper pie.
Such a glittering, ebony body. Such a big, black, helmetted head. Darth Vader
on six hydropole legs.
I truly regret having to kill him
in order to discourage his relatives.
But in death I give him
what I denied in life,
and for his final resting place, tuck him
into the dark chocolate crumb crust which soon I will serve to the female guest who asked down her nose
*My dear, whatever do you housewives do to amuse yourselves
all day long?*

Jancis M. Andrews lives in Vancouver and has had her poetry published in numerous magazines. Her collection of short stories, Rapunzel, Rapunzel, Let Down Your Hair was published by CaCaNaDaDa Press in 1992.

Call for Submissions

The Growing Room Collective, publishers of Room of One's Own, are calling for submissions for a special, theme issue on:

Myth, folklore, & fairy tales: a feminist retelling

Have you been making over myth? Fracturing some fairy tales? Figuring out the feminist elements of folklore? We are interested in reading your poetry, prose, and essays on this topic. Production is scheduled for late 1993 or early 1994 issue. Manuscripts should be typed, double-spaced. Enclose SASE for correspondence, return of manuscript. Send your work to:

Room of One's Own
P.O. Box 46160, Station D
Vancouver, B.C. V6J 5G5
Canada

Manuscripts must be received by July 31, 1993.
