A chacune de nos filles!

Tu as 15, 16, 17 ans! Tu veux tout voir, tout prendre. Tout de suite. Ne rien laisser pour demain. Demain est si loin. Si incertain aussi. Nous t'avons vu grandir, nous avons voulu pour toi un monde qui ne te serait plus hostile, qui te ferait une belle place, à toi, femme plus forte, plus libre, plus consciente. As-tu senti les remous occasionnés par notre action? Observé les changements dans ton comportement et celui de ton entourage?

Nous savons bien que vous n'avez pas toutes perçu également le message. Il y a celles qui, éloignées géographiquement, culturellement, l'entendent pas ou mal; d'autres, blotties dans le confort douillet de leur adolescence dorée, rêvent leur vie et ne veulent rien savoir. Parfois le flambeau se passe difficilement d'une génération à l'autre. C'est à toi, qui as accepté d'assumer la relève, que nous dédions ce numéro dans l'espoir que tu y puiseras force et connaissance. Nous l'avons composé en pensant à tes besoins, à tes aspirations.

Mais la lutte se mène ensemble; c'est toutes réunies qui retiendrez jalousement et développerez les quelques victoires que nous vous transmettons.

Bonne chance et bon courage!

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

The students in the class of "Introduction to Women's Studies" at Scarborough College, University of Toronto, wish to purchase a subscription to your journal, Canadian Woman Studies. This is the first year that Scarborough College has offered this course, and it has met with a very positive and encouraging response by the students.

In appreciation for the hard work and dedication on the part of the course co-ordinators, planning committee, and guest lecturers, the students of this class wish to obtain a subscription for our library.

We are hoping that, in subsequent years, the students in Women's Studies at Scarborough College will assume the responsibility for renewing our subscription and ensuring that this journal remains an important addition to our library.

Yours sincerely,
Barbara Bamford
