

Poor Scribble Dibble
He loved to scribble
He scribbled all over the wall
He scribbled a pig
He scribbled a wig
He scribbled an elephant
Nine feet tall.

He scribbled all day
He scribbled all night
He scribbled two dogs in a terrible fight
He scribbled a sink, two frogs, a canoe
And then he scribbled
A picture of you.

And when he was finished
His horse and his hen
He rubbed it all off
And started again.

Fern Lebo

Graphic by David Garrison